

Épreuve d'Anglais

Baccalauréat A₄ – 2012

Section A : Grammar

- 1 Link each pair of sentences below with the word/expression in brackets. Then write the completed sentences in spaces provided.
 - a. He went to the University. He never graduated from the University (even though).
.....
 - b. Mrs Moupe takes a rest in her room. Mrs Moupe's children watched television (while).
.....
 - c. Ambe saw his teachers coming. Ambe went to welcome his teachers. (as soon as).
.....
 - d. Don't dance. Do your homework. (instead of).
.....
 - e. We did not meet Angela. We did not also meet her sister. (neither ... nor)
.....
- 2 Choose the correct answer in the bracket below each sentence and write in the space provided to complete each sentence.
 - a. Mother asked me why Iwaited for her: (haven't, hadn't, wouldn't)
 - b. We areour in-laws next week (visiting, visit, visited)
 - c. Youput on your shoes. We're not going far (mustn't, shouldn't, needn't)
 - d. It's very stuffy in here. How abouton the verandah? (sit, to sit, sitting)
 - e. The dish is empty; Johneaten all the food in it. (must be, must have, must have been)
- 3 Complete the blank spaces in the sentences below with the appropriate words or expressions.
 - a. A long timethe first and second World War were fought.
 - b. We drovethe Wouri bridge.
 - c. Slaves used to workdawn to dusk.
 - d. Stella sitsme in class.
 - e. I have been writingseveral minutes now.

Section B : Vocabulary

- 1 Give the antonyms of the underlined words in the following sentences. Write your answers in the spaces provided.
 - a. Abega always plays football on Sunday mornings.
 - b. Every teacher likes an active class.
 - c. It is rare to find younger persons today in the administration bossing older ones.
 - d. The new office building was demolished in April last year.
 - e. She made a mistake and switched on the parlor lights instead.
- 2 Fill the gaps with the correct forms of the words in brackets.
 - a. Tightmeasures were put in place before the arrival of the president. (secure)
 - b. Europeans took advantage of millions of Africans and them (slave).
 - c.the forest and its resources is vital for a friendly environment. (conserve)
 - d. Losers in elections in Africa, most often complain aboutmalpractices. (elections)
 - e. Racialis terrible form of human rights abuse (segregate).

Section C : Comprehension

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions below it in the spaces provided. Write in good English, and use your own words as far as possible

Profile of a successful woman

Mammy Takor is celebrating three decades of selling fufu and eru in the nation's capital this year (2007). She has succeeded in carving a niche for herself with this delicacy and other spicy and palatable dishes such as fufu and okro soup, koki beans, plantains and ekwang.

The story of her trip to Yaounde can only be told by herself; the young Eyong Lidwina had a pityful debut. She still remembers how her late father forced her into early marriage. In fact, her father's position was optionless. The old man promised to disown her if she failed to marry Mathias Takor.

Mammy Takor's early marriage compromised her education and an early ambition of becoming a senior police officer. However, she is quick to point out that the marriage later turned out to be very romantic and successful following the tons of love showered on her by Mathias Takor Eta and their six blessed of springs. Upon her arrival in Yaounde in 1979, Mammy Takor began trading in loin clothes which she bought from the South West Province. She had many regular customers who usually borrow materials and would promise to pay later on. Some paid their debts while others pleaded for the payments to be delayed. Her line of debtors failed to honor their financial obligations and this was not only annoying but discouraging to which she had to give it a second thought.

After discussions with her husband, the idea of selling food was floated as a replacement for the unprofitable sale of the African fabrics. Like all great ideas would roll out, she began in a small-scale selling food to her husband and his colleagues of the U.S. Embassy during break.

The experiment turned out to be very successful especially as her fufu and eru was described as most delicious. Such motivating feedback was a catalyst for embarking on a worthwhile project—a restaurant. She finally opened a private restaurant business in 1987. This restaurant that began opposite U.S. Embassy later moved to the make-shift site behind the Ministry of Commerce in 1995. Here, she became the most popular Anglophone food sales woman in town. The delicious nature of her meals earned her the brand name Mammy Takor, originating from the name "Takor" shared by her husband and son.

Her joint became a meeting place for Anglophone and served as a post office and directory for Anglophones in Yaounde.

Mammy Takor is frank to reveal that her business is very flourishing. In fact, she says that she comfortably sells about a thousand plates a day of the assorted meals even though some clients borrow and never settle their debt.

Source : Extract from the 2nd Edition of Summit Magazine August-October 2007 on the profile of Mammy Takor, pgs 14-15

Questions :

- 1 For how many years has Mammy Takor been trading in water fufu and eru ?
.....
- 2 What did Mammy Takor's original dream growing up as a young woman ?
.....
- 3 Why did Mammy Takor and her husband decide to change her line of business ?
.....
- 4 Briefly explain the ultimate paragraph of this passage : " Her joint ... Anglophones in Yaounde".
.....
- 5 Prove with evidence from the text Mammy Takor from the onset did not like to be married to Mathias Takor Eta.
.....

Section D : Essay

Write an essay on any of the following topics of between 250-300 words

- 1 "Students are not responsible for their failures in examinations." How far do you agree with this view?
- 2 Describe how your most favourite meal is prepared, served and eaten.
- 3 You have read an article on Africa's hosting of the 2010 World Cup in South Africa. In a reply to the article, carefully examine Africa's chances in grabbing the most prestigious football trophy. Your name is Massa Andrew, and you are writing from Douala, Cameroon.